IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF UTAH, CENTRAL DISTRICT

THE COLOR RUN, LLC, a Utah limited liability company; and TCR IP Holdings,
LLC, a Utah limited liability company,

Plaintiffs,

v.

COLOR FUN FEST, LLC, a Texas limited liability company,

Defendant.

COMPLAINT AND JURY DEMAND

Case No. 2:17-cv-00467-EJF

Magistrate Judge Evelyn J. Furse

Plaintiffs The Color Run, LLC and TCR IP Holdings, LLC (collectively, “The Color Run”), by and through counsel, complain against Color Fun Fest, LLC (“Color Fun Fest”) and for their causes of action allege as follows:

NATURE OF THE CASE

1. This case arises from Color Fun Fest’s attempt to trade off on the hard-earned goodwill of The Color Run and its extensive family of COLOR and COLOR-formative marks. The Color Run is a wildly popular running-event brand known for holding light-hearted, high-energy races events in which thousands of participants wear white t-shirts and are showered with different colors of cornstarch paint at each kilometer mark. The Color Run originated the concept of paint races and is known for providing high-quality events and products. The Color Run's events and products have received national attention from media outlets and are well known throughout the country. Color Fun Fest could have chosen virtually any name for its competing and remarkably similar paint race events. Instead, it chose to brand its events and products with the COLOR FUN FEST mark, COLOR FUN FEST 5K mark, and other "color"-formative marks in a transparent attempt to trade off on The Color Run's good will and distinctive brand.

2. Color Fun Fest's use of the COLOR FUN FEST and other "color" - formative marks in connection with nearly identical products and services as those sold by The Color Run is likely to cause confusion and mistake and/or to deceive as to the source, origin, and/or association of its products and services. In particular, consumers could easily believe that Color Fun Fest's events and products are The Color Run's events and products, that The Color Run has consented to Color Fun Fest's use of its infringing trademarks, or that Color Fun Fest is otherwise affiliated with The Color Run.

3. For these reasons, and as explained further below, The Color Run seeks permanent injunctive relief to stop Color Fun Fest's blatantly infringing activity, as well as monetary damages, to compensate The Color Run for the harm it has suffered, is suffering, and will continue to suffer as a result of Color Fun Fest's infringement.

PARTIES, JURISDICTION, AND VENUE

4. Plaintiff The Color Run, LLC is a Utah limited liability with its principal place of business located at 1957 South 400 West, Salt Lake City, Utah 84104.

5. Plaintiff TCR IP Holdings, LLC is a Utah limited liability company with its principal place of business located at 1957 South 400 West, Salt Lake City, Utah 84104.

6. On information and belief, Color Fun Fest is a Texas limited liability company with its principal place of business located at 222 Municipal Dr., Suite 138, Richardson, Texas 75080.

7. This Court has subject-matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 25 U.S.C. § 1331 because a federal question exists, and pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1338 because this action arises under 15 U.S.C. § 1114 and 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a). The Court has supplemental jurisdiction over the state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a) because they are substantially related to the claims that arise under Plaintiffs' Lanham Act claims. The Court also has subject-matter jurisdiction over this dispute pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a) because there is complete diversity of citizenship and the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000, exclusive of costs and interest.

8. On information and belief, Color Fun Fest is subject to the Court's personal jurisdiction because it has specific contacts with Utah sufficiently related to The Color Run's causes of action to warrant the exercise of personal jurisdiction by the Court. Specifically, Color Fun Fest has transacted business within Utah, including by organizing, marketing, selling tickets to, and holding Color Fun Fest's paint race event in Salt Lake City, Utah, in July 2016.

9. On information and belief, venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because a substantial part of the events giving rise to The Color Run's causes of action occurred in this district, and because Color Fun Fest is subject to the Court's personal jurisdiction.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

The Color Run

10. The Color Run is a wildly popular running-event brand known for holding light-hearted, high-energy race events in which thousands of participants wear white t-shirts and are showered with different colors of cornstarch paint at each kilometer mark. After the races, runners participate in post-race festivities involving music, dancing, and throwing paint. A photograph showing one of The Color Run's post-race events is displayed below.

11. The Color Run pioneered the concept of paint race events. The Color Run's races are not timed and take place in a non-competitive, party atmosphere. The Color Run's goal in creating its running events was to bring large groups of people together in a fun and inspirational community-type setting, to promote participants' health and wellness, to raise money for charities, and to act as a catalyst for participants to live active, healthy lifestyles.

12. With those goals in mind, The Color Run's paint race events are targeted to a broad demographic, including first-time runners, seasoned athletes, and individuals of all ages. More than half of The Color Run's participants are first-time 5K runners.

13. The Color Run's paint race events, which began in 2011, quickly became popular throughout the United States and abroad, in part, due to The Color Run's significant efforts to organize and promote its events throughout the world.

14. Through its efforts of building and expanding its brand, The Color Run has become the leader in the "fun-running" space. The Color Run's primary event, marketed as "The Happiest 5K on the Planet," has been experienced by over six million runners worldwide in over 35 countries. The Color Run's worldwide promotion of these events is often branded with "color"-formative marks, such as the TropiColor Tour (2016) and the Color Run Dream Tour (2017).

15. As the popularity of The Color Run brand grew, The Color Run expanded its running events to include, among other events, The Color Run paint race events, as well as The Color Run Night and the Electric Run events. The Color Run offers more than 300 events in over 200 cities in more than 60 countries. The Color Run's running series is currently the largest in the world.

16. The Color Run's paint race events have been recognized and received acclaim from national and international television networks and publications such as ESPN's SportsCenter, USA Today, Men's Health, Runner's.com, Cosmopolitan, and Self. Nationally and internationally recognized brands have also teamed up with The Color Run to promote wellness and healthy lifestyles through The Color Run's events.

17. In addition to promoting worldwide health and wellness, The Color Run actively contributes to charitable organizations. The Color Run has raised donations for more than 80 local and national charities since its inception. To date, The Color Run has donated more than $5 million to charities.

The Color Run's COLOR-Formative Marks

18. The Color Run has established and developed a family of COLOR-formative marks in connection with its paint race events and related apparel and merchandise.

28. The Color Run’s products and events offered, sold, and advertised in connection with the COLOR Family of Marks have generated substantial revenues. As a result, the Color Run has expended considerable resources in developing its intellectual property and perfecting its rights thereto. Because of those efforts, The Color Run’s intellectual property has become extremely valuable.

Color Fun Fest’s Infringement of the COLOR Family of Marks

29. Color Fun Fest’s events and products attempt to trade off on the hard-earned goodwill and reputation of The Color Run, including, without limitation, by using marks that are identical to and/or likely to cause confusion with the COLOR Family of Marks.

30. Color Fun Fest organizes paint race events in connection with the COLOR FUN FEST mark, COLOR FUN FEST 5K mark, and other “color”-formative marks (together, the “COLOR FUN Marks”). On information and belief, Color Fun Fest’s events are held throughout the United States.

31. Similar to The Color Run’s events, Color Fun Fest’s events include runners starting the race with white t-shirts and then getting showered with different colors of cornstarch paint throughout the race. Like The Color Run, Color Fun Fest also holds day races and black-light night races. The runners also participate in a post-race event that includes music, dancing, and paint throwing. A photograph of Color Fun Fest’s post-race event is displayed below.

32. Although Color Fun Fest’s paint race events are marketed as a 5K, they are held on a 1.6 mile course. Color Fun Fest simply gives runners the “option of running the course once, twice, or even three times.”

33. Color Fun Fest’s events are marketed, similar to The Color Run’s events, as “A Family Friendly 5K Color Run!” Color Fun Fest also promotes its events as supporting charities.

34. Color Fun Fest uses marketing themes similar to The Color Run’s to promote its events: “Whether you are an avid runner, or first time 5K’er, you set your own pace for the run”; and “You run, walk, or skip the colorful course, while having the time of your life with friends and family getting colors thrown around you! Then celebrating at the massive finish-line festival with music, color, food, drinks, vendors, and good vibes.”

35. Color Fun Fest also owns and operates a website (<http://colorfunfest5k.com/>) through which it promotes and advertises its events (the “Color Fun Website”). Color Fun Fest also promotes and advertises its events and products through various social media outlets, including Facebook, Instagram, and Pinterest. Color Fun Fest’s Facebook account has 350,379 followers; its Instagram account has 15,400 followers; and its Pinterest account has 795 followers.

36. Color Fun Fest’s advertisements use many of the same color schemes as The Color Run’s advertisements:

Color Fun Fest’s Advertisement

The Color Run’s Advertisement

37. Color Fun Fest’s use of the COLOR FUN Marks in connection with these events, and the associated promotional materials, is likely to create confusion, mistake, and/or deception as to the association, sponsorship, and/or connection between Color Fun Fest and The Color Run and their respective events and products.

Color Fun Fest's Reputation

38. Color Fun Fest has a poor reputation amongst consumers. Color Fun Fest has an “F” rating with the Better Business Bureau (BBB). The BBB has received 76 customer complaints and 4 negative customer reviews relating to Color Fun Fest’s events and services. Color Fun Fest has not received a single positive review, and it has a composite BBB score of 1 out of 5 stars—the lowest score possible. Many reviewers complain that Color Fun Fest refused to refund the participants’ registration fees despite rescheduling the race for a different date and/or venue.

39. Color Fun Fest also received 1 out of 5 stars from reviewers on Yelp.com, with reviewers complaining that Color Fun Fest refused to refund their registration fees despite cancelling or rescheduling the race.

40. News stations in various states have run stories about Color Fun Fest’s deceptive business practices. These news stations have reported that Color Fun Fest frequently reschedules its races for different venues and dates than those participants originally signed up for and, when participants seek a refund of their registration fees, Color Fun Fest refuses to provide customers with refunds based Color Fun Fest’s “no refund policy.”

41. News stations have also reported that upset customers have started a Color Fun Fest 5K Class Action Facebook page and filed complaints with the attorney general’s office.

42. One news station reported that the charity to which Color Fun Fest purportedly contributes 100% of its profits, called “Just Care More,” is actually run by the founder of Color Fun Fest. The news stations also reported that “Just Care More” is not listed as a charity by the IRS or BBB.

The Color Run Discovers Color Fun Fest’s Infringement

43. On or around February 22, 2017, The Color Run discovered that Color Fun Fest was using the COLOR FUN Marks and infringing the COLOR Family of Marks. Accordingly, The Color Run sent Color Fun Fest a letter informing it that its use of “color”-formative marks infringed The Color Run’s COLOR Family of Marks and demanded, among other things, that Color Fun Fest immediately discontinue all existing uses of marks confusingly similar to The Color Run’s trademarks, trade dress, or intellectual property.

44. Color Fun Fest did not respond in writing to The Color Run’s letter, but Color Fun Fest confirmed in a phone call with The Color Run’s legal counsel that Color Fun Fest would not discontinue its use of the COLOR FUN FEST mark or any other marks confusingly similar to The Color Run’s trademarks, trade dress, or intellectual property.

45. If Color Fun Fest is permitted to continue its use of the COLOR FUN Marks, The Color Run will suffer irreparable harm and damage to its COLOR Family of Marks and its reputation and goodwill associated therewith. Color Fun Fest should not be permitted to reap the benefits of The Color Run’s extensive efforts to build a valuable brand in its COLOR Family of Marks.

46. Color Fun Fest’s use of the COLOR FUN Marks is also detrimental to the public’s interest in being free from confusion as to the source, sponsorship, and/or affiliation between Color Fun Fest’s events and products and The Color Run’s events and products.

Specifically, Color Fun Fest's use of the COLOR FUN Marks is likely to cause confusion, mistake, and/or deception as to the source and/or origin of Color Fun Fest's events and products, and is likely to falsely suggest a sponsorship, connection, license, and/or association of Color Fun Fest and its events and products with The Color Run and its events and products.
